ePsolutions Appoints Steve Langerock as Chief Executive Officer

Company recruits 30-year veteran of the technology and services industries

AUSTIN, TX – April 7, 2008 – Today, ePsolutions, Inc, a leader in back office solutions for competitive energy resellers, announced the hire of Steve Langerock as the company's Chief Executive Officer (CEO). In his role, Langerock is chartered with maximizing operational efficiencies and accelerating the company's growth.

A seasoned veteran, Langerock brings more than 30 years of experience to ePsolutions with a specific emphasis on software and SaaS model companies. Prior to ePsolutions, Langerock served as Chief Executive Officer for Aladdin Knowledge Systems NA, a leading provider of security services and solutions used to protect assets, enable secure business, and maximize the benefits from creating, selling, distributing and using digital content. While at Aladdin, he was responsible for driving a 10 fold improvement in sales revenues. Prior to joining Aladdin, Langerock was the Chief Financial Officer and General Manager at Glenco Engineering where he was responsible for building the operational efficiencies that would allow for the eventual successful sale of the organization. Prior to that, Langerock was the President of his own successful software consulting firm which he ran until being enticed back into the corporate world by Glenco management. Langerock also held senior executive positions at Advantest, Fujitsu, Fansteel Manufacturing and began his career with Walgreens Corporate headquarters.

ePsolutions' partners and investors felt Langerock's expertise in strategy and market development, combined with implementing robust operational controls and internal disciplines in high growth environments, were the perfect complement to the teams' deep understanding of the market and enabling technology.

"I am very pleased to be able to bring in a proven leader such as Steve, who has the credentials and experience necessary to grow the company to the next level," said Chuck McArthur, ePsolutions' Chairman of the Board of Directors. "I am confident we have selected the ideal person, whose skills we can leverage to continue the momentum we're experiencing."

"I am truly excited to be given the opportunity to lead ePsolutions" said Steve Langerock. "This is a talented, agile and visionary company dedicated to exceeding client expectations while meeting critical industry requirements. I look forward to strengthening and expanding our core solutions and services while continuing ePsolutions tradition of innovation."
